

I am honored to be considered for the Associate Vice Chancellor for Facilities Planning and Management at UW-Madison. I believe UW-Madison would provide me an exceptional opportunity to work with a highly skilled and professional workforce. My extensive experience in all areas of facilities leadership and management including planning, space management, master planning, project management, design, construction, real estate, business, capital finance, budget, contracts, information technology, maintenance, utilities, parking and transportation, environmental, sustainability, safety, housing, energy and working with unions makes me uniquely qualified for this position.

Currently, as the George Mason University Vice President of Facilities, I manage an annual design and construction program exceeding $100 million and an operating budget of approximately $46 million. Furthermore, I am responsible for the continuous process improvement of all facility functions and the management of over 250 employees in regard to the maintenance, design, and construction of more than nine million square feet of space in 137 buildings on multiple campuses for a Research I University with approximately 39,000 students. Furthermore, as the Business Director and Senior Civilian for Naval Facilities Engineering Command, Atlantic, I was responsible for 13,000 employees and a budget of $12 billion for asset management, capital improvements (design and construction), contracting, public works, and environmental products and services for all Naval installations in the continental United States, Europe, Africa, and southwest Asia.

I hold several degrees including a Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering from Bucknell University, a Master of Engineering from Old Dominion University, and a Master of Business Administration from the College of William and Mary. I am also a Registered Professional Engineer. I believe that my strong facilities management background, exceptional work ethic, and ability to work well under pressure, allow me to excel in a work environment dedicated to producing quality products and services in a timely and efficient manner. I sincerely believe that my skill set and leadership capabilities will be a valuable asset to UW-Madison as the Associate Vice Chancellor for Facilities. Thank you for your consideration.
